

Hawbaker Joins Kish Bank Regional Board

STATE COLLEGE, PA – July 31, 2013 – Alan G. Hawbaker has been appointed to Kish Bank’s Centre County Regional Board, according to William P. Hayes, CEO and Chairman of Kish Bank.

Hawbaker is retired from a career that began in 1974 with Glenn O. Hawbaker, Inc. (GOH). Hawbaker served as Director of Information Technology at GOH, where he implemented new accounting and estimating systems. Since his retirement, Mr. Hawbaker has served as a consultant to GOH, where he is continuing his role in the procurement of liquid asphalt, fuels and natural gas, and in overseeing cost control for the firm’s asphalt plants and equipment.

“We are pleased to welcome Alan to Kish Bank’s Centre County Regional Board,” Hayes said. “His years of experience in one of Centre County’s most successful and progressive businesses – now spanning three generations – will be very helpful to us as we continue to grow the Kish franchise.” Hayes also cited the strong support GOH has provided the community over the years. Hawbaker has been active as a volunteer in the State College community, most recently joining with Kish and others in the construction of a garden at the Grey’s Woods Elementary School in State College.

Hawbaker attended Penn State University, where he majored in the Associate Degree Program of Highway Engineering. He lives with his wife, Ginger, in Port Matilda. They are the parents of two grown children.

Hayes stated further, “Our Regional Boards are a critical link in our efforts to remain connected to and listening to our communities. They not only serve as a sounding board on our products and services, but also provide us with insight on growth and expansion opportunities.”

Kish Bank has $650 million in assets and 13 offices in Centre, Mifflin, and Huntingdon Counties. Business units include retail and business banking, investment management and trust, insurance, and travel.
